I might not be as active as I am now anymore. My grades are slipping a little. My averages have dropped from 100-102 to 98-99, and my parents aren't happy about that. I'm in 7th grade, and in my schools accelerated program. Meaning, I'm learning 7 and 8 grade stuff in one year. I'm supposed to be the top of my grade, like I have been since second grade. I have a lot of stress on me right now, and I have debate tournaments every two weeks or so. I'll still check in, but I won't be here as often. I will probably still RP occasionally, but I most likely won't be able to start new threads. I'm really sorry friends, and I hope I can get my grades back up soon. I'm so sorry.

Mods, please let this through.

Thanks all of you. I still might check in a few times a week, but only to RP.

Aww, that sucks. Stress can go heck itself. Hopefully you can come back to the forums full-time soon!

~~But how do you maintain even a 98% average? O.o Like, I can barely get an 85% average.~~

If your parents are upset with a grade of 99-98, that's their fault. I understand that you're under a lot of stress right now, but you don't need to be perfect. You're still getting very high As, which are hard to get even in non-accelerated classes. Even if you weren't, grades don't define you. So just know that if you need to take a break, that's perfectly fine and we all support you.
